PROGRESS.

We now have the New Morality officially promulgated. Morrison I. Swift and his army of the unemployed have declared in formal resolution that the commandment "Thou shalt not steal" applies only to those who have. For those who have not, either because they are too lazy to work, or because they voted at the last national election to slap prosperity in the face, stealing is hereafter to be an act of virtue. Verily, the world do move. Truth.

CONSISTENCY.

The Governor of Massachusetts refused to accept an increase of four thousand dollars a year in his salary. But assume that they all did, and that the principle is correct; then suppose some of our Governors, to be consistent, should pay the State for all the damage they have done, not included in the election arrangements, what fine bills some of these gentlemen would have to pay. —Life.

Probably not one voter in a million, when he voted for Gov. Walsh, thought anything about his salary. But assume that they all did, and that the principle is correct; then suppose some of our Governors, to be consistent, should pay the State for all the damage they have done, not included in the election arrangements, what fine bills some of these gentlemen would have to pay. —Life.

Yes, Kentucky would be out of debt and the six largest bonding companies in the country that took such a risk would be bankrupt in consequence. But what a good plan it would be for the people. —Paris Democrat.

WANTED TO REDUCE MINT SURPLUS.

Some way of a newspaper correspondent a few weeks ago published in a number of newspapers throughout the country a paragraph that has brought thousands of letters to the Director of the Mint from every section of the country asking that he send them $24.00 as his or her share of the per capita circulation of the money of the United States. The correspondent stated in his dispatch that money would be due every man, woman and child in the United States if Uncle Sam's money were divided up and thousands have actually believed that by writing to the Treasury Department they would receive the money. A form letter in reply to the vast number of these letters has been gotten up in the Bureau of the Mint to disabuse the minds of those who were misled, but it has kept several clerks busy for many days simply addressing the envelopes to the misguided applicants, many of whose letters begging that the money be sent at once are pathetic.

PUT THIS IN YOUR PIPE.

Here is an original and practical way to summarize the railroads rate cause as explained by a traffic official of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Here is what he said: "It is unfortunate the public, who are the consumers of the products which the railroads haul and ask a right to increase the freight rates on, are so little informed as to the lowness of transportation rates as compared with other costs of production.

"For instance, few wearers of socks know that it costs only one-seventeenth of a cent to haul a pair of socks 1,000 miles, or say from Chicago to Boston, Mass. In order to earn 2 cents, enough to purchase a postage stamp, the railroads in the average freight service have to haul a ton of freight three miles or three tons one mile. It costs 2 2-5 of a cent to haul a pair of shoes 1,000 miles, 1 1-5 of a cent to haul a hammer an equal distance and 9-10 of a cent for one shirt, for a typewriter 45 cents or a ham 1-3 of a cent. And yet the dealers say—many of them, at least—that the granting of a 5 per cent freight raise would necessitate the hoisting of prices."

President Wilson's "bloodless victory" is O. K. as far as it goes.

GOOD BOY WOODIE! WE'RE WITH YOU!

But whether our action now is to amount to "interference" with the Huertistas, the Mexicans or just a deserved spanking of Huerta, and whether war with anybody is to be the outcome of the policy of reprisal which we are to enforce, the country is now with President Wilson in his determination to vindicate our national dignity, and if war must come—the pity of it! the folly of it!—a united people will be loyally behind him with all their resources of money, manhood and patriotism. Courier-Journal.

THE TARIFF RESULTS.

Wholly apart from the stories of the armies of the unemployed in the different large cities of this country, the reports of the imports and exports do not seem to indicate that the expectations of the framers of the law have been fulfilled. It was promised that American manufacturers would be able to keep their mills running on full time without reducing wages, because the raw materials of their industries would come in either free of duty or at a very low rate of duty. Yet the statements of the operations of the first four months of the new tariff law show that importations of raw materials, for use in manufacture, are less under the new law than they were under the old law. It is the manufactured articles which show the increase. In other words, the promise that the new tariff would not harm any legitimate business has not been kept; and the predictions of the Republican critics of the new tariff are already being justified by the workings of the law. —Boston Advertiser.

DYSPEPTIC PHILOSOPHY.

(New York Tribune.)

Lots of people will take everything for granted except a hint.

Fortune never smiles on a man who stares her out of countenance.

Many a girl thinks a fellow is a man after her own heart when he is really after her money.

It is generally possible to get away with graft, but you can't bribe destiny.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE.

The Midnight Thrust.

His clock of dark disguise he held,
Dreadful found his crawling finger,
With knife uplifted and polished gun,
He didn't pull the trigger.

By the author of "Never Too Poor to Live," "The Anonymous Dimple," "Sixty Dupperhorn," "Love in a Torpedo," "How to Run a Bar on an Income of Nine Beans," "The Chicken Hunt," or "When the Clock Struck Thirteen," "How to be Happy Though Cross-eyed," "Hart Karp Philkins," "The Coyote and the Doublet," etc., etc.

Yindrop Waddles, now as a pickled peach with the thought of the daring crime he was about to commit, stole down the creaking stairs.

His heart stood still as the clock struck midnight. But at the twelfth stroke it paused, and his heart proceeded on its accustomed way.

Scarcely daring to breathe, he continued on his cautious way. In his right hand gleamed a long knife. There was no blood on it, but oh! watch it when Yindrop Waddles is on his way back.

Now he has reached the second landing, now the first.

Now he is stealing through the dining room, feeling his way through the darkness, listening apprehensively at every imaginary sound. Grimly he clenches the handle of the razor-sharp knife.

Now he is the kitchen.

Now he is fumbling at the refrigerator door and striving a match.

Now he is hacking a great slice from the remains of the cold roast beef.

"We gotta live!" he hissed. "She won't give us enough at meal time, and we gotta live."

Tucking his spoils in the especially constructed inside pocket of his pyjamas, he stole back the way he had come. —Louisville Times.

DOCTOR SAID HE HAD DROPSY

Some time ago I had an attack of gripe which finally settled in my kidneys and bladder. I doctored with the doctors and they claimed I had dropsy. I tried other remedies and got no relief from any of them. My condition was such that I was unable to work for about two months and the annoying symptoms caused me a great deal of trouble and pain. I was hardly able to turn over in bed. Seeing one of your Almanacs, I decided to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a trial and after taking several bottles was able to resume my work again. I cannot say too much in praise of your Swamp-Root as the results in my case were truly wonderful.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT BALLARD,

Mansfield, Pa.

PROFESSIONAL INTEREST.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

The faded youth turned to his dinner partner with a yawn.

"Who is that strange-looking man over there who stares at me so much?" he drawled.

"Oh, that's Prof. Jenkins," she replied. "The famous expert on insanity."

The Gabardine is the most useful article of clothing in vogue since Adam, and when they are sold by us, they're valuable indeed.

ELECTRIC SIGNS!

The distinguishing air of quality which a first-class Electric Sign gives to a store is the element which gives a sign its greatest value as an advertising medium and investment. The impression it makes is good. It blazes forth to the public that there is business enterprise, merchandise and methods up-to-date. It affects the entire atmosphere of the business district. The stranger says, "It is a live town," and publishes it abroad.

It is the Sign of the Times.
